

Milton Park's Citizen Committee

Oh Come Ye! O Come Ye!

Missed the fun? It all happened December 5 at the annual Christmas party organized by the Milton-Park Citizens' Committee for the public and for members.

About one hundred people, including at least 20 children, gathered at the Strathearn Centre. The children made decorations from paper plates, cardboard towel rolls, glitter, buttons and other baubles and bangles. Of course, there was a Christmas tree waiting to be decorated. People sang carols and finally dug into the tasty delights provided at a potluck meal. There was turkey, naturally, and much, much more. The evening finished up with music provided by a Chilean guitarist. The evening was a chance to greet old friends, make new acquaintances and share a bit of neighborhood spirit.

planned and carried out by the Milton-Park Citizens' Committee to improve the quality of life in this neighborhood. Become a member and discover the pleasure of meeting your neighbors and working for a better neighborhood.
